

The New Zealand AMATEUR RADIO STUDY GUIDE

January 2010 edition Compiled by Fred Johnson MNZM ZL2AMJ zl2amj@nzart.org.nz

You wish to be a radio amateur? Here are six free books!

An introduction to Amateur Radio, with the Syllabus, full Examination Question-Bank, Study Notes and test-yourself facilities!

You can view these books on-screen, or (preferably) print and bind them for easy reference and study.

Prepare yourself for the Amateur Radio Examination, study at your own pace, in your own time, at your own place. You can start right now!

The books have been laid out and the presentation carefully developed for the convenience of the student. For best presentation, they should be printed double-sided and bound as shown in the diagram. (153 A4 sheets total.)

If you are running Amateur Radio Classes (perhaps for the first time), one set of these books for each student and one for each Instructor is all the printed resource material that you will need.

If you are an Instructor looking for Hand-out Notes for classes, you can print those too (Book 2, select pages).

If you are preparing material for a "week-end camp", these books provide pre-course reading and all the study and testing material you will need.
